BOUQUET

Your BRIDAL BOUQUET is the most special part of your florals. It's unique, it's carried personally by you and in almost every single wedding photograph.

It needs to perfectly represent you as a person in its styles, colours, design and shape.

THE perfect ONE FOR YOU

BOUQUET

First things first, the SHAPE - Round, trailing, organic, natural or somewhere in between.

Then the COLOUR - Just one or two simple colours or adding in tones of shades for textures.

FOLIAGE - Are you a foliage fan? Would you like alot, a little or none at all.

The FINISHING TOUCHES - Ribbon or material colour to protect your hands, long stems or short, any added details etc.

THINGS
ABOUT

WEDDING FLOWERS

- Your flowers appear in nearly every single photograph, why pay an absolute bomb on a fantastic photographer and then skimp on flowers. The images will be your everlasting memories, make them special!

- Adding flowers helps bring your entire day, theme and style together. Say you have 5 wedding colors that you want to bring together on your wedding day. Flowers are the most perfect, beautiful way to highlight this.

Top Table

Priceless photographs like these of your wedding day are always made that extra special with flowers.

Not only can they be used in your ceremony, they double up as an arrangement for your top table and then extra decor for your evening.

They are made to match your theme, create a romantic setting and smell beautiful. It's also fair to say they look BLOOMING GORGEOUS!

WHAT DO WE ACTUALLY DO?

Wedding Florist

The people that say ‘it’s only throwing some flowers together’ could not be further from the truth.

A wedding florist is not only the person/people that prepare your flowers, they dedicate everything to bring your dreams to life. They’re not just a supplier that turns up and leaves, they contribute to every aspect of your decor and will offer any help to other suppliers or you on your set up.

From your first initial enquiry, we work tirelessly behind the scenes on turning your wedding flowers into reality.

The perfect florals for you are planned way before the day itself. During our initial consultation we will discuss flower choices, themes, styles, designs, shapes and colors. This gives us a fantastic outline of how you would like your flowers to look on your special day.

From there, we begin working on a detailed design quotation with ideas and moodboards bespoke to your requirements. There is so much for us to consider when designing this for you, the venue, your dream, your budget, the season, the colors and so on.. This can take hours!

Once the order is agreed, we then move onto arranging sundries such as foam, pins, ribbons.

Checking we have the right glassware in stock or if we need to source more, checking suppliers, organising staff, ensuring we have enough vehicles here to cover and deliver in perfect time.

Creating schedules for the set up, timelines - this is very much the project planning stages, making sure everything and everyone comes together on the day!

Buttonholes

People often ask WHO wears a boutonhole? This is completely personal to you, your family and friends. Always Groom and the Best man, Groomsman and Dads too.

We advise the boutonholes to always MATCH the bride and bridesmaids flowers. This way everything ties together perfectly.

All of our boutonholes are secured with either a safety pin, standard pin or magnet.

First things first, choose the STYLE Round tables with something short or something taller.

Or Trestle tables with garlands or runners.

Thinking BUDGET Let your florist know your ideal budget for table flowers. This can help point you in the right direction to begin with. The more extravagant, the higher the price. But if you are looking for something more simple and budget friendly, explore bud vases, jars and bottle options with single stems.

Centrepieces

If you LOVE flowers and are super excited to plan them for your special day.. book an appointment today for a free consultation with our wedding floral experts.

We PROMISE flawless attention to detail, beautiful ideas and designs, top quality reliable service and all the support you could ever need.

WHERE DO I START?

Right here...

We can't wait to start discussing your wedding flowers with you, but firstly we need to check we are available.
